Google Ads Performance

Google Ads Performance

Key Insight: Strong improvement in efficiency and ROI—higher conversions and traffic at significantly lower cost per click.

Glossary

- Cost: The total amount spent on Google Ads over the reporting period.
- Clicks: The total number of times users clicked on your ad.
- Impressions: The number of times our ad was seen.
- Conversions: The number of actions completed by users after clicking our ad, such as Phone calls, Direction requests or Lead form submissions. This reflects campaign success.
- Average CPC (Cost Per Click): The average amount paid for each click on our ad. It helps us understand the cost-efficiency of our traffic.
- Cost per Conversion: The average cost to acquire one conversion. A lower value indicates a better return on our advertising investment.
- Conversion Rate: The percentage of clicks that result in a conversion. A higher conversion rate indicates better ad performance and landing page experience.
- CTR (Click-Through Rate): The percentage of people who saw our ad & clicked on it. Calculated as (Clicks ÷ Impressions) × 100. A key indicator of how relevant and compelling our ads are.

Overall Takeaways

- Paid ads across Google and Meta delivered strong performance improvements, especially in cost-efficiency and conversions.
- Organic Instagram reach dropped, but paid content is driving engagement and retention, especially around event content (e.g., 4/20 promotions).
- Consider investing more in video content and continuing to optimize Meta ad placements.
